If the ETR range is in operation access to the butts is via the righthand track, not the roadway.

Range orders

Your car is your primary safety zone, kit up there. Guns are to be bagged when moving to and from the firing points.

No guns on the firing points until the RCO has given permission. At the RCO's discretion mats etc may be place on the firing points.

Once the butts party are all in position, at the RCO's command, the red flag may be lowered and the range becomes live.

The RCO will allow the guns to be unbagged and made ready.

The RCO will confirm with the butts officer that the butts are ready and the targets may be raised. The command "When your target appears you may load and carry on in your own time." or "Watch and Shoot, watch and shoot." Will then be given.

The gun must be in your shoulder and pointing at your target before you chamber a round, especially if using a bench or bipod.

If you have a misfire wait 30 seconds before opening the action. Give the faulty round to the RCO who will return it to you at the end of the detail.

If the butts safety flag is raised or if you hear the command STOP STOP STOP you must immediately stop shooting, clear any live rounds and await further instructions.

If you see anything that could compromise safety bring it to the RCO's attention or shout STOP STOP STOP.

At the end of the detail the RCO will give the command "Stop shooting and clear any live rounds". The RCO will then clear the details guns.
